Blast rocks Malacañang

Explosion also hits Makati, grenade found in Quezon City

By Christine G. Arendano

AS PRESIDENT MACAPAGAL-Arroyo was about to meet with officials of the Intellectual Property Office (IPO) for a thanksgiving lunch in Malacañang yesterday, a loud explosion rocked the Palace grounds.

The explosion, which occurred at 12:02 p.m., in front of the Radio and Television Malacañang office (RTM), shook nearby offices but did not cause serious damage.

A second explosive device went off on a street in Makati City at 1:30 p.m., injuring a 3-year-old girl.

Hours before, a grenade with its safety pin missing was discovered by police in Quezon City. It was found in a garbage bin outside the National Printing Office.

It was unclear if the two other cases were related to the blast in Malacañang.

A group claiming to be young "reformed" military officers claimed in a statement that it "started today a series of explosive protest activities that will continue and even escalate until Gloria Arroyo leaves the presidency." (See story below.)

The assigned statement was sent through fax by the Young Officers Union of the New Generation (YOUNG) and Palamara AFP (PAPF).

THE MILITARY Why the cannons did not fire at Edsa

by Napoleon C. Manalo

(Part of two parts)

THIS IS THE STORY OF MY FATHER WHO died without being recognized for the very large contribution he made to the first EDSA people power revolution, a very sad gift for a military man who served his country well for 35 years.

My father, Col. Carlos B. Manalo, the chief of staff and head of the Philippine Constabulary died on June 11, 1996. He never had the satisfaction of having his act of heroism recognized. None of the books that glorify the revolution even mentioned his name.

If Edsa did not become a bloody event, it was because my father refused to follow the orders of Gen. Fabian Ver to use force against the protesters at EDSA.

And after President Marcos quit Malacañang, it was my father who chaired the process of all the bonds that Maj. Wilfredo M. had

Bishop Soc slams gov't, Edsa 1 'pimps and rapists'

PHILADELPHIA, PARTICULARLY those who have benefited from it, have raped People Power, according to a bishop who was a member of the February 1986 uprising that saved the world.

In a scathing statement titled "Lament of People Power," Bishop Wilfredo Socorro Villalobos, who was a close associate of the late Jaime Cardinal Sin, yesterday said the low-key celebration prepared by President Macapagal-Arroyo's administration was indicative of the behavior of "pimps and rapists" who also showed their victim after getting what they wanted.

Villalobos said the administration was making a simple celebration and looking on the euphoria that people power was really in the heart simply because it had "stealed and plundered" the legacy of the event.

"I protest against the way the government remembers its roots," he said. "I pity people power."

As evidence of their attitude Archbishop Sin, Villalobos had an insider's look at the civilian-backed revolt that toppled the late President Ferdinand Marcos.

It was Sin, he would be looking for his longtime mentor, who had called on the people to converge on EDSA and help secure their defense Minister Juan Ponce Enrile and then Armed Forces Vice Chief of Staff Fidel V. Ramos.
